

6th Annual Frederick County Goes Purple expands with 2nd Annual Motorcycle Run for Recovery
Now More Than Ever

Now More Than Ever This year the opioid death rate has dropped to less than 1 every 2 months. This is great news. However, the presence of addiction and the need for recovery has not changed. Though opioids and fentanyl are losing grip, other street drugs continue to ravage our sons and daughters as much as ever.

Frederick County Goes Purple Expands with Run for Recovery This year, FCGP is joining with the Rescue Mission and The Ranch for the second annual Motorcycle Run for Recovery October 4th, to mark the end of the National Recovery Month of September. Go Purple began as a grassroots call to action to unify our Frederick County community to reduce substance-related deaths and overdoses. Frederick County supports those in active addiction, recovery, and their loved ones; offers hope and resources; and invests in youth through prevention education.

Why the Ride? We are changing with the needs on the ground. The Run for Recovery highlights the ongoing need for Frederick to Stand with those in recovery, to keep moving and to strengthen our support. Though opioids are no longer the primary danger, we must be careful to not lose momentum or forget our sons and daughters who still struggle. We ride for them. The roar of motorcycles touring Frederick for them.

How Can One Participate? There are three ways for individuals, families, community-based organizations, schools and businesses to get involved: This is a Crossed Bridges initiative (www.crossedbridges.com).
